

Jam Lessons January 3rd

Making Meaning Thinking Routine

Making Meaning

A routine for constructing collective meaning of words, ideas, concepts, or events.

Making Meaning T. Routine

- Taking turns, each person responds to the chosen focus with a single word. Each person's word must be unique so that it adds to the collective meaning.

Making Meaning T. Routine

- ❑ Taking turns, each person responds to the chosen focus with a single word. Each person's word must be unique so that it adds to the collective meaning.
- ❑ Each person adds on to someone else's word with an additional word or phrase so as to elaborate in some way.

Making Meaning T. Routine

- ❑ Taking turns, each person responds to the chosen focus with a single word. Each person's word must be unique so that it adds to the collective meaning.
- ❑ Each person adds on to someone else's word with an additional word or phrase so as to elaborate in some way.
- ❑ Each person records a question that arises about the topic of focus based on what is emerging.

Making Meaning T. Routine

- ❑ Taking turns, each person responds to the chosen focus with a single word. Each person's word must be unique so that it adds to the collective meaning.
- ❑ Each person adds on to someone else's word with an additional word or phrase so as to elaborate in some way.
- ❑ Each person records a question that arises about the topic of focus based on what is emerging.
- ❑ Based on the group's "Making Meaning discussion" on chart paper, each individual now writes their own definition of the word, topic, concept, or event being explored.

THINKING ROUTINE MAKING MEANING

QUESTIONS

?

?

?

?

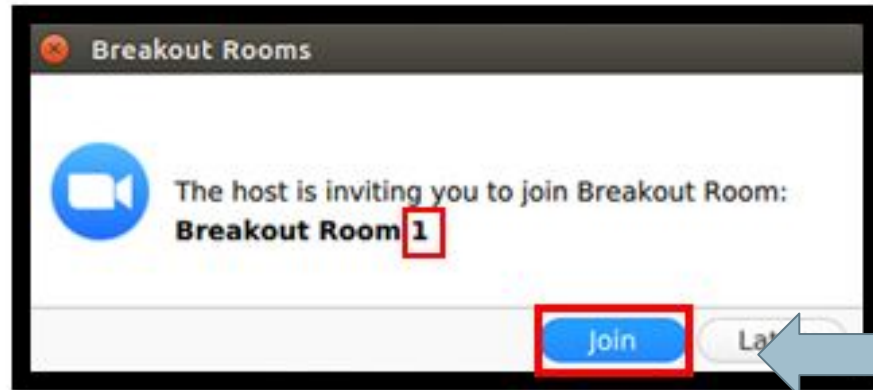

?

?

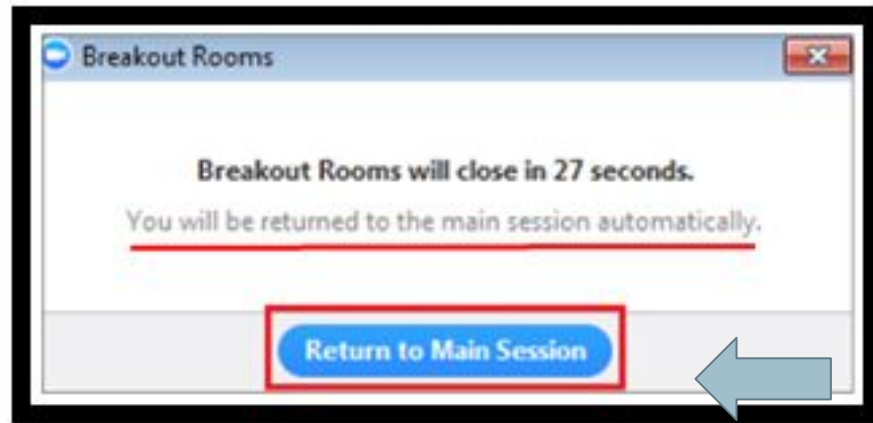

OWN DEFINITION _____

STEPS: (0) Concept (1) Ideas (2) Add-ons (3) Connections (4) Questions (5) Own definition

Click Join to be directed to your breakout room

When time is out you will be automatically redirected to main session

How much do values influence our identity?

FAMILY

family gives you culture

PERSPECTIVES

our culture define the perspective we have on the world and how the world perceives us.

CULTURE DIFFERENCES

DIFFERENT PERSPECTIVES

dif. life experiences shape dif. perspectives

LIFE EXPERIENCES

can a person choose how to be perceived?

IDENTITY

How powerful is our child hood that it influences our whole life?

Culture = values
ethical

VALUES SELF-KNOWLEDGE

our culture influence the way we dress

During child hood we build the bases of our values

CHILD HOOD INFLUENCES

How does culture influence our thoughts?

Can someone have more than one identity?

CLOTHING

what are the aspects taken into account to define the differences between cultures?

you childhood influences the kind of friends who you become aware of

IDENTITY

just ME as a human being through life

with freedom

we are defined by our personality + the decisions we make

Family

that stick with you

EXPERIENCES

from

my experiences form my personality

YOUR

PERSONALITY

how are define our personality

LIFE

challenges experience

we experience life through our personality

from you as a person

BE YOURSELF

as a person

using just your personality

Questions:

What shapes you as a person?

Can you actually be yourself all the time?

Is family part of our identity?

Do experiences from hard moments can make us better persons?

Who am I?

Does culture have an impact on the way we behave?

What about any fate? Will I change my personality forced by life?

Does life mean something if you don't go through experiences?

Why do people feel oppressed by society?

Do we actually choose who we want to be or do we arrive in some way rain-washed y a system to behave in a certain way?

Some of the definitions they came up with:

Identity is often defined by our childhood and family perspectives, and it is what makes us differ from one another identity is a construction that each person makes throughout his life, and which defines us as a person

Identity: characteristics that make a person different from others

Identity is what we build during our whole life, it's what defines us, and what makes us be who and how we are.

Identity is who we are as individuals or as groups of people. Nevertheless it cannot be described in a paragraph or a sentence, because it entails so much aspects such as looks, experiences, taste, culture, values, personality, opinions, lifestyle, etc; the list is never-ending. What's more, different people perceive us in different ways, and interestingly enough, these different perspectives of ourselves also take part in making up who we are.

Identity is something that you create/find within yourself, while going through different experiences in life

The background features several overlapping circles in various colors: orange, yellow, pink, green, lime green, and teal. Some circles are solid, while others are dashed. A large, light blue dashed circle is centered behind the text.

NDA

This routine emphasizes the importance of careful observation and close looking as the basis for thinking and interpretation